

U-BOAT SINKS SUPPLY SHIP OF U. S. ARMY

Navy Speeding to Trap
a Raider Attacking
Fishing Fleet.

BULLETIN.

At Atlantic Port, Aug. 21.—An Italian steamship which arrived here today reported having had a three hour running fight with a German submarine off the New England coast last Tuesday. Five of the steamer's crew were injured and the ship had a six foot hole amidships, caused by a shell from the U-boat. More than 200 shots were fired.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—The American steamer Montanan, of 6,689 tons gross, was torpedoed and sunk in foreign waters Aug. 18 with the probable loss of three members of the civilian crew and two members of the naval armed guard, the navy department tonight announced. Eighty-one survivors were landed.

The Montanan was in the service of the quartermaster's department of the army and was used as a supply ship. The members of the naval guard reported as missing are David W. Johnson, coxswain, and Chester C. Eldridge, seaman. The names of the civilian members of the crew unaccounted for have not been ascertained.

Expect Raider's Capture.
Navy department officials tonight expected the capture or destruction of the trawler Triumph which was seized by a German submarine yesterday, a German crew put aboard, the vessel armed, and started on a raiding expedition against the fishing fleet operating on the Grand Banks.

Every precaution has been taken, it was said, to prevent the raider slipping through the line stretched around the fishing region.

The department has taken steps to prevent fishing on the Grand Banks and to counteract the effects of this raid, Admiral Benson said.

Admiral Benson refused to place any credence in the declaration made by the submarine commander to the effect that the Triumph had six U-boats now operating in American waters. Careful checking of all information regarding the activities of these submarines has convinced naval officials that only three have been actively engaged.

The acting secretary warned against the public placing too much hope in the capture of German submarines being destroyed. In this connection he pointed out the fact that the claim of a British merchantman having sunk a submarine after a long range gun duel already has been definitely contradicted.

His Crew on U-Boat.

Six days spent as a prisoner on a German submarine, which was so crowded with men that there was scarcely room to sleep, convinced Capt. David Evans of the British steamer Postville, sunk by the U-boat, that the exploiters of the arming of the Triumph are contemplating by the German raiders.

Capt. Evans explained that the submarine carried seventy-seven men, more than twice the number of a normal crew, and his impression was that the officers intended to convert some captured ship into a raider.

The U-boat which sunk the Postville was about 300 feet over the water and carried two six inch deck guns, Capt. Evans said. "The most disagreeable part of my experience was lack of sleep in the quarters. One had to sleep wherever there was room to stretch out."

Raider Sinks Schooners.
A Canadian Atlantic Port, Aug. 21.—The steam trawler Triumph, fitted with two guns and wireless and manned by sixteen Germans from the Postville which captured it yesterday, sank the fishing banks off the Nova Scotia coast. Crews of the schooners sunk by the Triumph have arrived here.

Vessels known to have been sunk by the converted raider are the Una, Saunders of Lunenburg; the Elsie, and Andrew of Gloucester, Mass.; the Francis J. O'Hara of Boston, and the Lucille Schure of New York. Capt. Myhre of the Triumph and his crew were taken aboard the submarine yesterday afternoon and photographed by the Germans, who offered them refreshments and cigarettes. They said they started for shore sixty miles away late in the afternoon.

NIP SCHEME TO SAVE $10,000,000 FOE FIRM IN U. S.

New York, Aug. 21.—A scheme whereby the former German owners of the $10,000,000 Bayer company, manufacturers and importers of drugs and chemicals, now in the hands of the government, hoped to acquire a substantial part of the company's business through organization of a subsidiary company has been frustrated, A. Mitchell Palmer, alien property custodian, asserted tonight in announcing he had taken over the Williams & Crowell color company, Inc., of New York, with $250,000 in undistributed dividends. Herman C. A. Seebom, former director of the Bayer company, and four other men connected with the company were arrested today by agents of the department of justice and are being held for investigation as dangerous enemy aliens. Twenty men held are Dr. Robert J. Pabst, Adelbert Segin, and Carl A. Heiser of New York, and Dr. R. Hutz of Boston.

Patrol Boat Goes Ashore; Seven of Crew Are Lost

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 21.—Seven members of the crew of the United States patrol boat Montauk were lost when the craft was driven ashore by a high northeast gale on Cumberland Island, twenty miles north of Fernandina at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning. The body of one has been recovered.

GOLD STAR ARCH OF HEROES

Labor Will Dedicate Memorial Across Monroe Street in Grant Park.

The names of all Chicagoans who have made the supreme sacrifice since America entered the world war will be emblazoned on a memorial arch, now being erected across Monroe street, in Grant park, as labor's tribute to our gold star heroes. The arch will be opened on Labor day, when 250,000 organized workers will march beneath it and parade through the downtown streets. Work on the arch will be rushed forward night and day so that it may be completed on time. Three gangs of workmen are toiling until the structure is finished. The arch will be eighty feet high, topped by a huge golden star, and it will be illuminated at night by three searchlights in red, white, and blue. On the pillars of the arch will be printed in gold letters the names of every battle in which American troops have fought, and the names of the Chicago soldiers and sailors who have died will be placed upon pylons, surrounding it. The arch was designed by Andrew Reber.

AIR ADVENTURERS BACK WITH TALE OF LAKE PERILS

McCutcheon Praises
Aviator Facing Danger.

Lieut. Lee Hammond, Great Lakes aviator, Phil Wrigley, head of the training station's aviation machine shops, and John T. McCutcheon, Tarzans cartoonist, three men in a flying boat, flew back from Michigan yesterday. They left Grand Haven at 4:38 in the afternoon and reached Great Lakes at 7:35 o'clock. The trip was not so exciting as the one before when, going over, they lost their way, had gas feed trouble, battled the seven foot waves for an hour and a half, and broke two pontoons. They got off of their course again yesterday, owing to the failure of their compass to work, and they first sighted land east of Michigan City instead of at Great Lakes as they had planned. The compass was affected by the batteries of the hydroplane.

Liberty Motor Works Well.

From Michigan City they followed the shore line west and north to Great Lakes. Telling of his trip last night Mr. McCutcheon said: "It was an interesting two days. The Liberty motor worked beautifully. It never missed either way, going or coming. The trouble we had going over was due to failure of the gasoline feed. "The hydroplane weighs four tons and when we landed in midlake going over the waves made repairs difficult. "Two of the pontoons were smashed and all three of us were drenched to the skin. The pontoons were repaired on the Michigan side before we started home. "When we reached shore that we were lost it appears that the patrol boat Isla de Luzon set out and us and zigzagged its way across the lake. Another hydroplane was ordered out at Great Lakes to hunt for us and got smashed in the shore waves trying to take the air. I considered it a feat of great skill for Lieut. Hammond to have been able to take the four ton machine up out of the water in midlake in the face of the heavy waves and with the two pontoons broken."

"Flight Believed Record. The party spent the night at the home of Ross W. Judson, vice president of the Continental Motor company, near Grand Haven. Tuesday afternoon after arriving in Grand Haven and getting dry clothing, the flying trio took the hydroplane up for an afternoon's outing, skipping over from Spring Lake to Muskegon for a call. It is believed that the flight just completed is the longest ever made over fresh water in the history of aviation.

SUBMARINE MEETS SUBMARINE! HUN CRAFT IS NO MORE

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Recently a British and a German submarine met. The enemy had crossed the North sea, penetrated British waters, and was lurking to pounce upon any ship that might cross its track. The British boat was returning to base after an arduous cruise.

Both boats were on the surface, but the British boat sighted the enemy and dived before she herself was sighted. She fired two torpedoes and through her periscope the resulting explosion was observed. Coming to the surface five minutes later, the British crew found one survivor swimming among the wreckage. He was the captain of the German. The other officers and the crew had all gone down in their boat.

SPAIN WILL USE GERMAN SHIPS AS U-BOAT ANTIDOTE

MADRID, Aug. 21.—Spain will utilize German vessels now in Spanish ports in place of Spanish ships sunk by German submarines and will continue to observe neutrality.

This decision is announced in an official statement issued after a meeting of the cabinet at San Sebastian. The Spanish ambassador at Berlin has been instructed to inform the German government of this action.

The cabinet statement reads: "As a consequence of the submarine campaign more than 20 per cent of our merchant marine has been sunk, more than 100 Spanish sailors have perished, a considerable number of sailors have been wounded, and numbers have been shipwrecked and abandoned. "Consequently the government has decided to address the imperial German government and declare that owing to reduction of tonnage to its extreme limit it will be obliged in case of new sinkings to substitute therefor German vessels interned in Spanish ports."

'U. S. WITH US; NO TURNING BACK': LORD READING

Ambassador in London
Talk Says Democracy
Dooms Autocracy.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Lord Reading, the British ambassador to the United States, was the guest of honor today of the American Luncheon club.

In an address, after saying that when a history comes to be written of the part America has played in the war "very high will rank the achievements of the administration and legislature which passed the selective draft," Lord Reading reminded his audience of the change that had taken place in the British mind since America entered the war. No American would want him to say that America did it all, but an American would want him to pay equal credit to the French and the British and the Italians. He was as proud of their valor and heroism as if they had all been his own soldiers.

He declared that America was a nation of idealists, that the majority of the past have been inclined to think Americans materialists, whereas Americans are ready to sacrifice everything for an idea, provided the cause is noble and just.

Democrats Never Plot War.

He did not believe that there was any room for criticism of America because she had not entered the war sooner. Now that America was in the war, one or the other of the world ideologies must prevail. "We know positively," he declared, "that democracy will triumph."

One thing that impressed any visitor to America, continued the ambassador, was the all-shining faith in democracy, the unalterable opposition to autocracy, the existence of which Americans hold means war.

"No democracy ever sets out to plot for war," he said.

"True to the American spirit," continued the speaker, "once they have entered upon a path there never will be any turning back."

If there was a message he would bring to Britain from America, it would be: "America is with you to the end, the only end possible—that is, until victory has been attained."

Denies Alliance Story.

When the ambassador denied the reports that he had returned to England to draft the terms of an offensive and defensive alliance between Great Britain and the United States the audience chorused: "Too bad! Too bad!"

He eulogized Marshal Foch and said: "What the Germans are now saying to each other—they are realizing that they have arrived at a place where they have now begun to descend" and added:

"Truth prevails even in spite of the censor, more particularly the German censor. They must know that with America's assistance we can put far more men than they into the field. It is no exaggeration to say that we are almost double in productive capacity."

He was convinced that at the end of the war America and Britain would be able to work in closer cooperation and with better unity than ever before.

"Provided we don't fall into complacent optimism," he declared, "victory is absolutely marked out as certain."

FORT SHERIDAN TO BE HOSPITAL FOR WAR HEROES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—The war department today announced plans for establishing a big reconstruction hospital at Fort Sheridan at the close of the student training camp course now in progress there.

This will be one of two big hospitals that will be established in Chicago to receive soldiers from the middle west invalided home from France.

The site for the other hospital has not been definitely selected. At the outset the Fort Sheridan hospital will have a capacity of 1,000 beds and a medical corps personnel including fifty surgeons. It is planned first to utilize only the permanent brick buildings at the fort and the temporary campment buildings, connecting them up with corridors.

Later temporary hospital buildings will be constructed to increase the capacity to 4,000 or 5,000 beds.

KAISER'S CHIEFS FEAR REVOLTS; SHOOT, IS ORDER

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Aug. 21.—[By the Associated Press.]—Germany's military leaders now have become publicly worried over the prospects of a revolution in Germany. Gen. Ludendorff, in a captured secret order, has taken steps to employ the assistance of his commanding officers and various government agencies to help him stamp out the glowing spark which has been seen.

The order, which is more illuminating than anything which has come out of Germany in many months, follows: "It has come to my knowledge through a letter addressed to the royal Prussian ministry of war that men on leave have spoken publicly of a revolution which is to break out after the war."

"A soldier, said to have come from the industrial region of Rhenish Westphalia, declared in a train that in his home district men were going on leave, taking weapons with them for the aforesaid object, and that it was easy to take home German or captured revolvers as well as hand grenades separated into two parts."

"I desire that the clothing of men going on leave be searched as test cases before their departure. It will be possible to carry this out at the baths and dressing stations."

"I wish to impress upon all superior officers who happen to hear such objectionable talk or who hear of it through other channels that they must do with it at once and without hesitation."

FINLAND TO LET U. S. REFUGEES PASS THROUGH

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—No objection will be raised by the Finnish government to the passage through Finland of Americans seeking escape from Russia, the state department was advised today through the Swedish foreign office.

Allies Guard Siberian Railway.
VLADIVOSTOK, Aug. 17.—[By the Associated Press.]—According to the request of Gen. Dietrichs, the commander of the Czech-Slovak forces in Siberia, the head of the American forces recently landed here is dispatching a limited number of troops to occupy points along the railroad between this city and Nikolai, the junction point of the Trans-Siberian railway with the line running to Khabarovsk. This will release several hundred of the Czech-Slovak forces for service on the Ussuri front.

This operation would be under allied supervision and is made possible through the presence in the party of railroad experts under the leadership of John F. Stevens. This party includes 250 men, among whom are railway executives.

The third contingent of American troops arrived here last night. Reign of Terror in Moscow.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 21.—Several hundred of the 15,000 officers arrested in Moscow have been shot, according to a letter written in Moscow on Aug. 14 by Dr. Alfons Paquet and published in the Frankfurter Zeitung.

The former Russian Grand Duke Paul Alexandrovich, who was a monarchist, has been arrested by the Bolsheviks. He is an uncle of the late czar, the father of Grand Duke Dmitri Pavlovich.

GERMANS TWICE BARRAGE U. S. LINE FAIL TO ATTACK

THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE VESLE, Aug. 21.—[By the Associated Press.]—Twice today the Germans laid down a sharp barrage over the American lines between Soissons and Reims, but without attempting any movement of infantry. Patrolling continues on both sides.

The enemy planes were somewhat more active today in observation and attack over the back areas. American aviators bombed Flabouville, in the department of Meurthe-et-Moselle, and secured many hits, some of them direct on the railroad tracks. The airplanes returned safely.

In Alsace the enemy last night shelled a portion of the American trenches heavily, but could not even reach the wire entanglements when the infantry attempted a raid.

TUBERCULOSIS FIGHT VAIN.
Ed Saunders, who had been in New Mexico for months fighting "the war" against tuberculosis, "came home" last night—and in an hour he died at 3458 Archer avenue.

HARDEN ASSAILS BREŠT-LITOVSK TREATY AS CRIME

Says It Has Antagonized
Russia from Kola to Lower Danube.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The Times gives the following extracts from a recent article by Maximilian Harden in the Zukunft. Moralism: "The death of ex-emperor Nicholas, Harden says: "The world will not forget it was Nicholas who procured for the idea of disarmament a resounding annunciation, and that the opening of the Hague conference was for him as the dawn of life. A retrospect may discern in his character many signs of flickering weakness, but no ignoble trait of will. If Nicholas ever had a program it was to be mindful of the injury of his namesake before him to do on the throne all that in him lay in order to win from the masses that looked up to him, forgiveness for the monstrous prerogatives of the crown."

Did Three Great Things.
"Nicholas sought to establish peace as firm as a rock, he summoned the nations to disarm, and banned alcohol from Russia. That he will these three things history will some day write down to the credit of his book."

His conquerors, who gave themselves out to be the saviors of mankind and the universal Messiah, have worked in the months more horror and woe than he wrought in eight years.

"Never forget," he continues, "that the might of Russia, still unbroken and like a child, cannot be broken from without, nor as our generals testify has it been broken even in this war by any superior strength of Germany."

Crime of Brest-Litovsk.

The Brest treaty, Herr Harden says, is a crime, the irredeemable sin of disarmament, the crime of the century. He says that the treaty has allowed this harvest of mercy to be paid for in blood to be swept away at the very door of the barn and in that by their last for plaudits of a day they have allowed the fruits of this grand prize—the fruit of their world-jugglery. The outcome of their despicable little game, now with promise of democracy, now with threat of brute force, is that without the slightest need almost everywhere from Kola to the lower Danube enemies are arrayed against us, and that at every Socialist meeting in western lands warnings are loud against the people whose inmost aspiration has been laid bare by the treaties of Brest and Bukarest. The voice of duty now urgently enjoins that these treaties shall so be transformed as to satisfy the sentiments of every contracting party."

U-BOAT SINKINGS OF GREAT BRITAIN SHOW INCREASE

LONDON, via Montreal, Aug. 21.—Losses of merchant shipping by Great Britain during the month of July aggregated 176,478 tons, an increase of 10,965 tons over the June losses.

Allied and neutral gross tonnage sunk aggregated 138,828, making the total gross tonnage lost during the month 315,306. The loss in allied and neutral tonnage was an increase of 20,562 tons over the report for June.

Compared with the July figures of 1917 the combined British, allied, and neutral losses show a decrease of 262,938 tons.

The British losses in July exceeded the building figure in the United Kingdom yards by 34,531 gross tons. But during the same month a total of 12,220 tons was completed for British account, reducing the July deficit to 22,311, as compared with the average monthly deficit during the first six months of this year, of nearly 90,000 tons.

The sailings to and from Great Britain during July were more numerous than ever, being 7,718,898 gross tons for the combined British, allied, and neutral tonnage, an increase of 288,512 tons as compared with June.

"What war began the United States had no shipping marine, as you all know," Gen. March said, "and in order to accomplish what we have accomplished we have had to scour the world for ships."

"We have had one ship which really was given to us. Brazil gave us a ship for two trips without any compensation at all, and so far as I know that is the only ship we got that way."

Gen. March identified the Fifth regular division under Maj. Gen. John E. McMahon as the unit which transformed the quiet St. Die sector into a battle zone by capturing the town of Frappelle.

The Eighth division of Pennsylvania and Virginia national army troops from Camp Lee, Va., has completed its training with the British in Flanders and has joined Gen. Pershing's field army. Gen. March said in answer to a question. The Seventy-sixth division of New England national army troops from Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., he described as a replacement division. The Twenty-sixth, New England national guard division, which has been in the thick of the fighting in the Marne sector, has been relieved by fresh divisions and sent back of the line.

One Monopoly That Is Safe

A monopoly nobody wants unscrambled! There is no Sherman Law against a monopoly of Good Will. No trademark need fear the Supreme Court because it has a far-reaching, interlocking hold on the Good Will of the public. Here is the only, beneficent monopoly possible. And as for secret rebates, trade agreements, exclusive territories and the like—they simply do not exist; they are so unnecessary for the trademark owning public Good Will as to be obviously silly. Even with the most splendid product it takes years to win a national monopoly of Good Will in any line. It is easier now when war is plowing in new habits and new thoughts.

16 CASUALTIES IN CHICAGO LIST; 4 MEN KILLED

Two Others Reported as Dead Write They Are Wounded.

The official casualty list issued last night contained the names of twelve Chicago men. Of these, one was killed in action, two were severely wounded, eight were wounded in a degree still undetermined, and one is a prisoner of the Germans.

The earlier list had the names of three Chicago men, three reported killed or dead of wounds, and one reported as wounded severely. In addition, relatives received telegraphic word of two other soldiers being slightly wounded.

The Canadian casualty list contained the names of two Chicagoans and another, Lieut. George W. Gorman of the British aviation service, was reported in private messages as a prisoner of the Germans.

Two Reported Dead, Live.

Better news was contained in letters received by W. M. Knourek of 230 South Clinton street, regarding his brother-in-law, Bruno Swiebacki, reported killed in action on July 18, and by Joseph Daley of 813 O'Neil street, regarding his son, Corporal James Daley, reported killed on July 27. In each instance, letters from the soldiers were received, dated after the time of their reported deaths. Both reported themselves as wounded but as nearly ready to return to the trenches.

Men of the Chicago zone named in last night's casualty list were nearly all members of the One Hundred and Thirty-first infantry, formerly the First Illinois, commanded by Col. Sanborn.

Private Andrew Amrzejewski, reported as killed in action, was listed as living at 215 West Twenty-first place. Next of kin was given as Leon Chojnowski. No person of either name could be found at that address.

Private Frank Bantowicki, killed in action, lived at 8350 Brandon avenue, South Chicago. No details concerning him were available last night. His nearest of kin was listed as Frank Marsencki.

Also in Old First.

Private Henry G. Stolle, wounded severely, was 23 years old, and lived with his sister, Mrs. Lucile Ritzler, at 130 Warren avenue. He enlisted in Company E, One Hundred and Thirty-first infantry, in May, 1917. Prior to going to France he was employed by Armour & Co.

Private Henry Schwer, wounded severely, was 26 years old, and lived on a small farm at 7335 South Kedzie avenue. His father is John Schwer of that address. Private Schwer, enlisted in Company M, One Hundred and Twenty-seventh infantry.

Private Walter Sulkowski, reported wounded, but the degree undetermined, is 22 years old, and enlisted in Company E, One Hundred and Thirty-first infantry. He lived with his mother, Mrs. Joseph Sulkowski, 859 Lull avenue.

Private Henry G. Zyburt, reported wounded, but the degree undetermined, is 21 years old, and enlisted in the old First. He was employed by the Commonwealth Edison company. His parents are John and Mary Zyburt of 2981 Spaulding avenue.

Drafted Man Wounded.

Private Thomas Schubert, reported wounded, but the degree undetermined, is 21 years old, and was in the first draft. He was assigned to the One Hundred and Thirty-first infantry. His parents are John and Mary Schubert, 1744 Grand avenue.

Private Joseph Hennessy, reported wounded, but the degree undetermined, is 21 years old, and enlisted in Company E, One Hundred and Thirty-first infantry. He lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hennessy, 913 Twenty-first street.

Private Bruno Grande, reported as wounded, but the degree undetermined,

HOUSE PREPARES TO PASS DRAFT MEASURE TODAY

Senate May Take Longer;
Fight Looms on Calling
Youths Last.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Both houses of congress are ready to begin debate tomorrow on the administration man power bill designed to give the American army sufficient strength to win the war next year.

The house expects to pass the bill tomorrow, although some unexpected obstacle may hold it up until Friday. Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, believes the senate will pass the measure by Saturday night.

Fight on McKenzie Plan?

In the house a fight seems likely over the McKenzie amendment compelling the war department to defer calling men under 20 years of age until all men in class 1 over that age are taken. The house military affairs committee has put the amendment in the bill against the administration's wishes.

Although no move has yet been made by the president, many members considered it probable that there would be a protest from the White House against the amendment.

The senate, it is predicted, will pass the man power bill substantially as presented by the senate military affairs committee.

The anti-strike amendment written into the bill by the senate committee probably will form the subject of some debate, but it is believed the senate will adopt it.

Reported by House Body.

The house committee reported the man power bill today after adopting one additional amendment to carry on the education of young men drafted into the service. The amendment was offered by Representative Lunn of New York.

Representative Kahn today vigorously assailed the McKenzie amendment requiring the drafting of older men first. He declared it was "putting civilian opinion above military experience."

229th 'Tribune' Employee Has Entered Service

RISE FROM RANKS

Many Chicago Enlisted Men and Civilians Get Federal Army Commissions.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—Enlisted men from Chicago were given commissions in the army by the war department today. The new officers who rose from the ranks are:

Second Lieutenant, engineers—Richard N. Mann, 5543 Kenwood avenue; John F. Prendergast, 5951 Michigan avenue.

Second Lieutenant, quartermaster corps—Charles E. Crews, 344 East Forty-fifth street; Thomas M. Fitzpatrick, 5401 South Paulina street; Walter Van Sands, 300 North Pine avenue.

Second Lieutenants, air service (aeronautics)—Harold C. Goodwin, 6419 Greenwood avenue; William F. Lakey, 1254 West Sixty-second street; Bruno E. Wohlgenuth, 1712 West Forty-eighth street.

Chicagoans commissioned from civil life were:

Captain, quartermaster corps—Redmond Stephens.

Captain, chemical warfare service—Harry M. St. John, 813 Ridge avenue, Evanston.

DEAN MATHEWS REFUTES PACIFIST

Over on the firing line in France Lieut. "Bobby" Mathews of Gen. Bell's staff with the Prairie division, has a nice dugout for an office and Hun shells whistling overhead to lull him to sleep.

Back home his father, Prof. Shailer Mathews of the University of Chicago, is "doing his bit" by acting as secretary of the Illinois war savings stamps organization, and in many other ways making it hard for the Hun.

But the "Fellowship of Reconciliation," a peace loving organization which the government is investigating on sedition charges, being a respecter of persons, included Prof. Mathews' name on its literature as being "a member." The "list of members" was given publicly. Yesterday this Tribune received a telegram from Prof. Mathews, dated Chautauqua, N. Y. What the dean thinks of the "fellowship" may be gleaned from it. It reads:

"I utterly repudiate the use of my name in connection with the Fellowship of Reconciliation. I never was a member, nor attended a meeting, nor approved of its alleged policies. I am for war to a finish."

Women in Wartime

BY LUCY CALHOUN.

Whether it is the heat that has wilted them, or the canning season which has taken all their energies, or whatever the reason, the fact remains that the supply of volunteer workers for the women's committee, council of national defense, is running dangerously short.

"I hate to think they're slackers," said Mrs. E. Hill, head of the volunteer placing and filing department, who was denouncing the shortage of workers yesterday to another member of the committee, "but it does seem strange the way a little heat spell will lessen the supply. If they only knew how we need them down here, perhaps they'd give up some of their vacation time to help us out even if it is a little hot."

And so a sympathetic listener asked me to make the appeal for more workers for as much time as possible. Will the volunteers please step up?

Canteen Uniform on Way

Still another type of uniform for women will soon be seen in Chicago. It has been designed for the workers at the Khaki and Blue club which will be before long be ready for the entertainment of soldiers and sailors on the lake front. The war camp community service workers have selected violet colored chambray as the material for their work dresses. They are to be made very plainly, like the shirt waist dresses we used to hear about, and will have white collars and cuffs. On the left sleeve will be a white arm band bearing the red circle of the war camp community service. A lawn fete at the grounds of Charles Erbstein's home in Elgin has been reported as means of raising $2,527 for the club.

Meeting of War Chaimen

Miss Alice Thompson, ward director of the women's committee, will meet all the ward chaimen in the library of the Council of Defense building today at 2 p. m. Three new ward chaimen are announced. They are Mrs. R. F. Schuchart, 515 Melrose avenue, Twenty-third ward; Mrs. E. H. Thieland, 6711 Stewart avenue, north end of Thirty-second ward; and Mrs. Charles F. Hill, 4025 Hermitage avenue, Twenty-sixth ward.

Distribute Reclaimed Yarn

The Red Cross reclamation department, room 708 Garland building, has unspun and knitted garments and claimed yarn for distribution. Hours for distribution: Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. and from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Urges Alien Property Reports

Mrs. Frederick J. Decker, vice chairman of the Women's committee, Council of National Defense, has been requested to call the attention of her workers to the important matter of reporting the location of property belonging to alien enemies so that it can be taken over by the United States custodian of such property.

Here's Letter from Just One Mother Who Needs Your Aid

Better than any appeal one could write is the letter of a young mother of a large family of children who tells why she would like to go to THE TRIBUNE hospital for work out and tired mothers and their children in the country near Algonquin. Read it and if you can, contribute something to send this mother and others like her to the fresh air.

"A nurse at the fresh air sanitarium at Algonquin park," she wrote, "told me about your hospital and said that if I would write you I might get away for a week.

"I am a young mother 25 years old, but have had five babies in 13 weeks. My youngest baby is 13 weeks old. I am beginning to feel tired all the time and I have so much work to do for all my little helpless children that my back won't straighten any more. When I wash, which is every other day, I get a sharp pain over my temple over my head, and I am sure it's because for five years I have never been without a baby in my arms and never getting a full night's rest.

"The doctor at the sanitarium advised me to eat well, rest, and not worry, as I have little milk with which to nurse this last baby. If I stay at home I won't get a rest, for I work all the time, and if I got away somewhere I would be a new woman in a week's time."

It is for such women as these that the hospital exists. At the Algonquin hospital the mothers are relieved of all worry about their children. They get good food, all the rest they want, good air, a view of the woods, the hills and the river, and see their children happy in the camp only when they wish to.

Begin Hygiene Course

A new course in elementary hygiene and home care of the sick, which will fit you not only to care for persons in your own family but make you a capable nurse's aid, will begin tomorrow in the teaching center of the Red Cross in the Tower building.

RELIABLE METHOD OF HAIR CARE

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of Canthrox (which you can get at any drugstore) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling liquid. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After Canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Adv.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Q.—I am sending you a puffed up grain of sweet corn containing a brown-black powdery mass. What is it?—E. Z.

A.—The grain submitted was destroyed and the contents replaced by fungus spores known as smut. It lives over winter in the soil, and during the growing season is carried by the wind to the growing corn plants. As the rains wash it down, it settles usually on the lower ear buds, though it may develop on any tender portion of the plant. No satisfactory treatment has been developed. Pull up and burn at once all smutted stalks without scattering the fungus spores. Rotate crops.

Q.—I have heard of a method said to be used by southern watermelon raisers in producing prize melons. The operation starts with making an incision only large enough to insert a loosely woven cotton wick. The wick is then put in a pan of sugar water mixture and the pan kept full until the end of the season. Have you heard of this? If so, is it applicable to pumpkins?—W. A. B. Jr.

A.—I have no definite information on the "funnelling" or "bloating" of the cucurbitaceae. If you try it, make the incision in the stem, near the fruit—not in the fruit itself. Perhaps some of our readers can supply better information regarding the practice.

Q.—Can you tell me of a way to make sugar out of sugar beets?—G. G. S.

A.—If a dark sugar (unrefined) is satisfactory, a practicable "home method" is that described for "Sugar Beet Sirup" in F. B. 523, which may be obtained free from the Division of Publications, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. If the evaporation is carried sufficiently beyond the point required for sirup, a dark sugar will settle out. It is a commendable practice to relieve the present sugar shortage.

Q.—Can you please tell me where to get information about raising tobacco?—J. K.

A.—Write Division of Publications, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. for free copies of Garner's "Tobacco Culture," F. B. 571, and Garner's "Tobacco Curing," F. B. 523. Or send 5 cents coin for each to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.

'No Children Are Safe Until All Are Safe,' Their Champion Says

A barrage of verbal "hot shots" was hurled at an audience of women in the Fortieth club rooms in the Fine Arts building yesterday by the children's champion spokeswoman, Mrs. Mary Breckinridge Thompson of the federal children's bureau, who is on a speaking tour for the bureau in the interests of children's law.

"Nobody's child is safe until everybody's child is safe," she told them. "The majority of the criminals in the United States were created by us through our neglect of the children of this land.

"Lycurgus, the Greek ruler, conferred military honors upon women who died in bringing healthy citizens into the world. It makes me ashamed of the race when I hear old-fashioned people still say women should not have the vote because they cannot go into battle like the men to defend the country. Why, there wouldn't be any defenders of the country if the women had fallen down on their job.

"And if Lycurgus could confer military honors on the women of his day who sacrificed their lives in childbirth, surely our government can go further and confer the best kind of prenatal care upon them, so that they need not sacrifice their lives and so that the future citizens may be safeguarded."

She spoke of the "great blow" which the repeal of the federal child labor law was to all the bureau workers, and told of one state where the state law allows children of 9 and 10 to claim "exemption" on account of "war emergency" and go to work in industrial factories.

"We are always talking of this war as being for the safeguarding of the next generation," she said. "We think of it as making the world a decent place for them to live in. Then in the next breath we talk about letting them labor in factories as a 'war emergency.'"

Miss Catherine Olmstead, a Red Cross nurse, who was one of the mission to Roumania, told of the need for help not only for the children of the stricken nation, but for the children of the stricken nation. Miss Olmstead, too, is a worker for the federal children's bureau and she announced that a department of the federal public health nursing service would soon be opened in Chicago at the School of Civics and Philanthropy. She is to be in charge.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—Suits this fall so far show few new features. Again we have the high waistsuits with the high collar which often extend to reverse under the ears, and again we have loose panels. In connection with these features, many of the newest suits show a prejudice in favor of the unbelted coat. Also, reds of all shades have suddenly disturbed the calm of the suitmaker.

The accompanying illustration is not of a strictly tailored suit, but one of those which filled in September and October days. Of black and white checked wool, it has a loose, rather informal panel of white Dacora, the loose weave jersey, extending down the front of the skirt.

Gray Hairs Made Her Turn to Red

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

WAS IT YOU?

Two sisters, inseparable in youth, married two men, partners in a manufacturing business. They moved into the same apartment building and were conspicuous for their good looks and their smart clothes.

A couple of children were born to each, and before it seemed like a week the years to have rolled around the younger of the two sisters came rushing up two flights one day looking for a shoulder to weep hysterically upon. The cause being the discovery of some gray hairs suddenly come to light, as gray hairs have a way of announcing themselves.

"I can't stand it," she wept bitterly. "I'll have it dyed." The older sister, who had discovered a similar condition a while back, but made no fuss about it, tried to persuade her away from the dye.

Thin and before it seemed like a week the years to have rolled around the younger sister, which resulted finally in a stealthy visit to a hairdresser. Two hours later there emerged a figure strangely similar, but more strangely not to the one who had gilded stealthily. Under her hat there peered—leered rather—out a something of most blatant brick-red-dish hue.

She scurried back home rather self-consciously, to be sure, and up to her older sister for approval for she was told by the lady who did the red job on her that she looked ten years younger. And that wasn't a cruel thing to hear, as any lady will testify.

Sister looked startled when the hat was removed, but the woman's own hopeful, aged 14, a truthful face in the life of a boy, wielded the ax with a loud guffaw and a "Geel man, I never knew you had so many wrinkles and such funny skin. Auntie's is far nicer than yours."

Typical Program Feature with Star Aping "Lil" Mary

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

"WILD PRIMROSE" Produced by Vitaphone. Directed by Fred Thomson.

THE CAST: Primrose..... Gladys Leslie Jack Wilton..... Richard Barthelmess Marie..... Eulalie Jensen Standish..... Claude Gillingwater Emily..... Ann Warrenton Williams..... Charles Kent Griff..... Arthur Lewis Newton..... Bislow Cooper

By Mae Thine.

"Wild Primrose" is rather a typical program picture, with the rather Pickfordian Miss Gladys Leslie leading the band. Miss Leslie has curls a la Mary, and she has rather studiously cultivated some of Mary's ways. Though it must be said in passing, as it has often been said before, there is and can be only one Mary, it may also be remarked that little Miss Leslie is one of the least objectionable of the substitutes.

Her name is Primrose in this picture and she was born to a mountain girl who married a city man. The marriage didn't pan out well and divorce followed. The young mother grieved herself to death and the father, leaving his child to the care of an uncle, went away and in the course of time married again, a lady whose name should have been hardback, with a son.

The son had a penchant for the cabaret stuff and became engrossed with a busy dark lady—business, blackmail. In his cups he had married. Nobody knew his dark secret, however.

It occurred to this father that he would like to see the daughter so long a stranger to him. Daughter, having heard of his desertion, at first flatly refuses to have anything to do with him, but later changes her mind and resolves to go to his home and act like a wild, harum-scarum, neglected child might be expected to act, and there, for disgrace him in the eyes of his rusty old father.

I suppose by this time you have guessed that she falls in love with the son of her stepmother. You're a Yankee, she does! Further more, as is to be expected, time shows the busy dark lady possessed of many husband for her last certificate to be legal. Then Primrose is enabled to rescue her father from bankruptcy by means of a nice little $5,000,000 spout, ing from some old oil fields, and so on, and so on, to the happy ending.

Sugar Beet Sirup.

The United States department of agriculture has sent out quite a wonderful bunch of recipes on "Sugar Saving Canning." As one sees the sugar beet beside every other city limits and the rows of sugar beets in our war gardens, the following recipe for sugar beet sirup, from this collection, seems worth immediate and widespread attention, for these beets should be conserved to the last crown.

The words in the following recipe that need to be emphasized, and fairly shouted at every one who undertakes this work are "skim continuously." This is the universal advice, given by every one who knows anything about making this sirup. Every bit of solid or beef fiber that is removed takes away beet flavor and gives a better keeping product. I do not know how many other improvements it makes, because I have made beet sugar sirup but once.

Here is the department of agriculture recipe:

"Wash the sugar beets thoroughly with a scrubbing brush. Cut off the tops and the lowest leaf scar. Pare and cut in thin slices. Pour boiling water over the beets to cover; allow to stand in a closed container one hour. Strain off the juice through cheese cloth to separate it from the pulp. Put the strained juice in a kitchen boiler to a sirup consistency; skim continuously. Remove; pour immediately into hot, sterilized containers. Process ten minutes in boiling water. Remove from canner; seal completely. Cool, label, store. Beet sirup is good for all purposes for which other sirups or molasses are used."

Last year was the first season that there was any general attempt to make domestic use of the sugar beet. It was encouraged by THE TRIBUNE's garden editor, who will tell you to "skim continuously" if you talk to him on the subject.

The board has a big tract at Cottage Grove avenue and Eighty-third street and 340 acres in Clearing. Until schools can be built there it is planned to use the former land for students of Hyde Park High school and to make the Englewood High or the new Lindbloom Technical High school headquarters for the farm work in Clearing.

Oliver Gardens Among Best.

In a tour of inspection in Austin the directing committee of children's war gardens, State Council of Defense, found the Oliver gardens, Lakes and Menard streets, among the best in Chicago. They occupy half a block, divided into plots measuring about 500 feet. Inspired by A. J. Oliver, 5633 South boulevard, loads of tin cans and other refuse were carted away, the plot duly fertilized, permission for the use of the fire hydrant obtained, and excellent results produced even this first year.

Water Oliver, 8 years old, has acquired much of his father's skill and enthusiasm and is working hard for a TRIBUNE medal.

Three Farms Within City Planned for Public School Work

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Plans for agricultural extension in the public school system being prepared by Dudley Grant Hays, director of special activities for the school board, include three large farms within the city limits and as many agricultural high schools.

The success of the eighty-acre farm in the Cragin school tract, which is being conducted by thirty students of the Austin and the Schurz High schools, is largely responsible for the contemplated extension. It is planned to make the agricultural high schools correspond in their line to the big technical high schools in the system.

Students farming on the Cragin site are preparing the land for future development, and Mr. Hays expects to be able to conduct an experimental station in connection with the work there.

"We would cooperate with the department of labor," he said, "with the University of Illinois, and with other agricultural colleges. It would give the boy who is unable to attend an agricultural college a chance to get a start in scientific farming. Another proposal is to have agricultural evening schools to help workmen anxious to get onto the land and for the business man who owns a farm to learn the latest and best things about farming."

High school boys taking such a course could work on the farm daily in the summer and receive wages. Mr. Hays believes from the profits of the crops. At present the boys work only half a day, in two groups. They are not paid and most of them have secured jobs in stores for their otherwise idle half days. They receive school credit for the work.

Until schools can be built there it is planned to use the former land for students of Hyde Park High school and to make the Englewood High or the new Lindbloom Technical High school headquarters for the farm work in Clearing.

Bright Sayings of the Children

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

"The Tribune" will pay $1 in thrift stamps for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is printed in this column, or it is returned to the child's home. Please write on one side of the paper. Address: Bright sayings to: Auntie Bee, "Tribune," Chicago.

Charlie, trying to amuse himself as best he could, came out of the garage dragging an old cowbooby umbrella, which after much exertion he was able to open over his head. His grandmother, coming to the door, called out, "Charlie, you put that umbrella right up this minute." Charlie played back, "I have got it up and I see doin' for a walk."

My friend had a daughter 3 years old who wanted much a baby sister. At last her mother told her she might get a baby sister soon, and at once the little daughter decided she preferred a baby brother. So she talked a great deal about "baby brother." When told that she might go in and see her new baby sister she said: "Why, did I change my mind again? I thought I decided upon a baby brother." B. "Don't be asking your father for nickels," reprimanded Jessica's mother, shaking her finger at the child. "You wouldn't it be worse if I asked for quarters?" I. E.

Picnic and Field Day in Lincoln Park

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

The summer recreation committee, financed by the packing companies of the stockyards, will hold a picnic and field day in Lincoln park today. A band from St. Mary's Training school will furnish the music. It is expected that at least 1,500 children will come from the following organizations:

Bethany Baptist church, House of Happiness, Hamilton school, Fulton school, Community M. E. church, Pension department, Raymond institute, Probation department, Chase house, University settlement, Fuller park, United Charities, Sherman park, Holy Trinity, Cornell square, Episcopal, Davis square and her school, Fellowship house, McKinley park.

The morning will be spent in enjoying the zoo, bird house, and other attractions. After the picnic luncheon, at 1 o'clock, the children will all gather on the ball field at the south end of Lincoln park and form in line for parade. Special patriotic caps have been provided, and each child will carry a flag. After the parade the children will take part in the field day activities. Medals and caps have been provided for the winners. The prizes for feature races will be thrift stamps.

Ours Is A "Corn Bred" Country

—but with all its sturdy qualities, its complete food values and its delicious possibilities in the making of things good to eat, corn has just come into its own in the manufacture of Amerikorn.

Amerikorn Flour, which is all corn, and which you can buy and use in unlimited quantity, is a finely bolted, short patent flour—so soft and velvety in texture that you can make your daintiest favorite pastries with it.

Amerikorn Flour has all the essential food elements, and in right proportion. You should use it alone in any recipe calling for baking powder.

Solves all cooking problems so far as the use of a cereal is concerned. Only in recipes requiring a dough, like yeast bread and biscuits, is the addition of wheat required.

Amerikorn Flour comes in 5-lb. bags; Amerikorn Meal, which is just as excellent for its particular uses as the flour, comes in 1½-lb. cartons. A recipe book in each package. Order Amerikorn from your dealer today and get away from food worries caused by war conditions. Dealers: Call up your jobber and give him your order for Amerikorn.

WILDERMEN MASS FORCES TO BEAT CAR VETO TODAY

Say Bribe Inquiry Insures
Votes to Override
the Mayor.

Alldermen supporters of the unification traction ordinance last night passed it by a vote of 14 to 10. The ordinance would send a veto message to the council session today and that the council would override his veto by the necessary two-thirds vote.

They stated further that the bribery charges under inquiry by the grand jury at the instigation of State's Attorney Duval had given additional strength to the supporting group and that the elevated road properties were given too high a valuation and the second was that the rate of return to the companies was too high.

The ordinance received forty-eight majority vote, one more than the ordinance on its original passage would require for it today. One of the former opponents, Al. Hickey, announced that he was now in favor of its passage and added that the elevated road properties were given too high a valuation and the second was that the rate of return to the companies was too high.

Has Two Objections.
City hall gossip, said to have originated from sources near the mayor, said that Mr. Thompson would voice two chief objections to the ordinance as its present form. The first was said to be that the elevated road properties were given too high a valuation and the second was that the rate of return to the companies was too high.

Alldermen "Kunz" is the member of the city council who told alldermen that the "payoff" man in the traction bribery scandal, according to alldermen witnesses before the grand jury.

Although State's Attorney Duval has refused to discuss in any way the decision of alldermen who are said to have taken the facts in connection with the charges that there had been promises of bribe money to pass the unification ordinance, it was learned that Mr. Kunz was of the men named to the grand jury as in "the know."

Mr. Kunz has refused consistently to admit publication that he ever investigated the grand jury reports by other members of the council. He also denied indignantly he had ever divulged to council bribery in a jocular manner to any of the "club" alldermen.

Closed with Duval.
Mr. Kunz was a visitor at the state attorney's office last night and was escorted by the grand jury. This assistant is said to have collected important information as to the method of enactment of the big traction bill and material facts in connection with the handling of other traction legislation.

Twenty Others "Invited."
Twenty "invitations" were issued to alldermen to visit the state attorney's office and talk over the bribery charges with Assistant State's Attorney Duval. The conversations continued throughout the day and evening and are to be resumed this morning. Mr. Duval also left the office during the morning and obtained a statement to which he seemed to attach much importance from an unidentified individual. He also questioned several other persons downtown.

"I have obtained corroboration of my previous statement that there has been gross misconduct on the part of a number of alldermen in passing the ordinance," was his comment when he returned to the Criminal Court building.

Quoted Steffen Interviews.
Among those questioned at the Criminal Court building by Messrs. Duval and Steffen were Al. Joseph B. McLaughlin, Al. Frank Klaus, Al. Herman Krundick, and John Butman, a newspaper writer. Butman was asked concerning various interviews he had had from Ald. Walter P. Steffen. Mr. Steffen is the one alldermen who voted against the traction measure and who is said to have told the grand jury that it was his personal belief that there were bribes offered for votes.

Physician Held After Probe of Girl's Death
Dr. James A. Stough, 329 South Ashland boulevard, was arrested yesterday on a coroner's investigation into the death of Miss Alma Heldenway of 1000 Park, found dead in his home. Stough was booked on a charge of murder by abortion. The inquest was continued to Sept. 6 and his bond fixed at $10,000 by Judge Stewart in District court.

The police are searching for Fred Hendrick, about 24 years old. He has been in the employ of the express department of Sears, Roebuck & Co. and is alleged to be in the office of the same company.

John Heldenway, mother of the girl, had $68 in her purse when she was found dead. She had but 75 cents among her effects.

WIFE READY TO SHARE WILLIAM WITH ANOTHER

As for Third, Who Had Him Arrested, "That Was a Mistake."

Where love ordains a triangle the law is a nuisance. Such is the substance of the philosophy of Mrs. Marie Mosley Odette. To prove it she passed her arm about the waist of Miss Mary Bauer, 16 years old, and said:

"William's heart is big enough for both of us. We will share his love."

William Odette is Mrs. Odette's husband. He was sent to jail yesterday for failing to pay $550 to Miss Ella Ott of 3320 North Robey street. Miss Ott appeared in court with Odette's son in his arms.

Wife Not Alarmed.
Odette couldn't marry Miss Bauer or Miss Ott because he married Miss Mosley. But his wife wasn't alarmed because he made love to the Misses Bauer and Ott. She said his affair with Miss Ott was "just a mistake of William's."

"Mary loves you just as much as I do," she said in court. "And I know you love Mary just as much as you do me."

"Have to Make It Life."
Mrs. Josephine Lawrence, head of the social service bureau, suggested the foolishness better be stopped or else Mary will go to the House of the Good Shepherd.

You'll have to make it life," said Mary. "Because I'll fly to him just as soon as I'm free."

Odette's mother was in court to see her son sentenced for his "mistake," and she opined that her son's wife and Miss Bauer had best be examined as to their sanity.

WOMEN SAY HOTEL WOULDN'T ALLOW WAR STAMP SALE

Three "gold star" mothers held an indignation meeting last night in front of the Congress hotel. They had just been refused permission, they said, to sell war savings stamps in the dining rooms of the hotel.

The women were Mrs. Oscar J. Vogt, chairman of the "gold star" booth; Mrs. Edward Hines, and Mrs. Demick Le Blanc. All have lost sons in France. They were assigned to cover several hotels and restaurants for the dining hour.

"They almost put me out of the hotel," said Mrs. Le Blanc. "They said they would not allow us to disturb their guests at dinner and ordered us to leave the hotel. We expect to report our experience to the war savings committee."

John Burke, manager of the hotel, said he knew nothing of the affair; that the hotel management welcomed the war savings workers in its dining rooms.

"They may have talked to a head waiter or some one from the kitchen," he said. "They did not come to me. We have had the women selling stamps here right along. I shall make an investigation."

IT PAYS TO TAKE OFF YOUR HAT TO JUSTICE BOYER

It pays to take off your hat in Justice Boyer's police court in Evanston. Lieutenant A. V. Campbell of the Royal Flying corps, from Toronto, appeared before Justice Boyer yesterday charged with speeding.

"Take your hat off, you're in court," ordered Justice Boyer.

"I take my hat off only on orders from my superior officers," said Lieut. Campbell.

"In my court I'm your superior officer. Take off your hat," said Justice Boyer.

The lieutenant obeyed and was fined $10 and costs.

Now, take the case of Otto Chaffield, Taylor, 13, son of Robert C. Chaffield, Taylor of Lake Forest, at whose house Lieut. Campbell is a guest. Young Chaffield-Taylor was arraigned for speeding before Justice Boyer earlier in the day.

"Because you owned up to thirty miles an hour," the justice said, "and took off your hat in my court I will let you off easily. Five dollars and costs."

REALTY DEALER SUES WOMEN FOR $500,000 SLANDER

New York, Aug. 21.—[Special.]—August Heckscher, one of the largest real estate operators in New York, has sued Mrs. Teenie Noel Johnston of New York and Huntington, L. I., and Mrs. Dorothy Van Schaick Kelly of Huntington for slander, demanding $500,000 damages from each and the cost of the action.

Mr. Heckscher alleges that the defendants did the slandering when, in the case of Mrs. Johnston, she said that Mr. Heckscher was pro-German and that his yacht left Huntington Bay every day to spy on American shipping and report later to German agents.

In the case of Mrs. Kelly it is alleged that she slandered Mr. Heckscher by repeating to a friend what she had heard from Mrs. Johnston.

TRUSTEES OFFER U. S. AID TO MAKE SYMPHONY LOYAL

Punish the Guilty and Clear Reputation Is the Aim.

Trustees of the Orchestral association yesterday offered their cooperation to the government in making sure that there is 100 per cent loyalty in the ranks of the Chicago Symphony orchestra. They propose that any disloyalists who may be found shall be dealt with through the law, but at the same time that those members whose loyalty is beyond reproach shall be given a "clean bill."

The Orchestral association trustees took cognizance of the inquiry being conducted by the office of District Attorney Charles F. Clyne at a meeting held on Monday afternoon. Clyde M. Carr, president of the association, made public yesterday a set of resolutions which were passed. At the same time a committee consisting of Mr. Carr, Charles H. Hamill, Charles L. Hutchison, and Horace S. Oakley, was appointed to act in cooperation with Mr. Clyne's office.

Resolutions Assail Disloyalists.
The resolutions, after taking official cognizance of the inquiry, read: "Be it resolved, That the trustees of the Orchestral association do cooperate in every way in their power to assist the department of justice, or any governmental agency, in securing all possible information which may insure a just and certain determination as to the loyalty of any member of the orchestra under investigation, to the end that those members of the orchestra, if any, who are disloyal or who have been guilty of acts or expressions of disloyalty may be dealt with according to law, and that the orchestra may be purged of disloyal members, and to the end further that there may be put, once for all, an end to idle and malicious gossip concerning those members of the orchestra whose loyalty to the country shall be found to be beyond reproach."

Duty to Cooperate.
In providing for the appointment of the committee, the resolutions declare that their duty shall be "to cooperate with all appropriate governmental agencies in their efforts to discover and deal with those members of the orchestra who are disloyal."

In addition to the members of the committee the trustees signing the resolution are Joseph Adams, Philo A. Otis, William L. Brown, Clarence A. Burley, Edward B. Butler, John J. Glesner, Chauncey Keep, Harold F. McCormick, Seymour Morris, Maj. A. A. Sprague, and Charles H. Swift.

"I am satisfied that the orchestra association trustees will go to any length to wipe out any disloyalty which may exist in the orchestra," District Attorney Clyne said upon receipt of a copy of the resolutions. "The trustees are all men whose loyalty to country is held above everything, and they would not countenance any pro-German influence at work in our midst. I am exceedingly gratified to obtain their expression of cooperation."

AUTO THIEF TRIO TRAPPED, ESCAPE BY WINDOW LEAP

When Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hodges, 61 Bellevue place, drove into their garage in their electric last night they found three strange young men there preparing to drive out with their limousine.

The garage is attached to the house and the motor thieves, in flight, ran through the house. They made their exit through a front window, taking the screen with them, and landing in the street outside.

Louis Frederickson, a Lincoln park patrolman, got on the trail. He brought up at the Oak street beach and there he found three young men. They were lying on the grass, star gazing and listening to the waves.

When they were looked up by the East Chicago avenue station they described themselves as Jack West, 1013 North Wallace street; William Burke, 1500 Park avenue, and George Mitchell, 6230 Yale avenue. They were marked "hold" and Mr. and Mrs. Hodges will look them over today to see if they are the three young men of the garage.

Mr. Hodges is a real estate man with offices at 115 South Michigan avenue.

DRAFT MEN UNFIT FOR WAR TO BE USED AS CLERKS

Solution has been found of the problem confronting local draft boards in obtaining sufficient clerical help to cope with coming registrations. Instructions have been received by the boards from Provost Marshal General Crowder directing that tentative lists be compiled from the names of the men classified in the special or limited military service who are qualified as clerks.

Men physically fit for military service, who are now in clerical positions with local boards, will be released for active service.

Robbers Get His $1,000 Saloon License Money

Joseph Sartoris of 1419 Rock street, Rockford, Ill., told the police yesterday that with $600 of his own and $500 he was going to a crippled friend and was on his way to the Bartholomae & Roasting Baking and Maltting company at 918 West Twelfth street to arrange for a party by two white men and a Negro and robbed.

SOLID SIX MAY TRY NEW SCHOOL CENSUS SCHEME

Possible to Draft Third
Form in Time for Primary.

Speculation as to whether or not Mayor Thompson's "solid six" board of education plans to adopt a third scheme for taking a 1918 school census was voiced yesterday during the arguments of attorneys before Judge Pam in the case of Harry Scott, a citizen who is seeking to restrain the board from proceeding with the enumeration.

After repeated attempts to get into service, Harry A. Newby decided to enlist as a private. Newby is the head of the law department of the Industrial Commission of Illinois, attached to Attorney General Brundage's office. He was yesterday in the city for the purpose of training camp at Jacksonville, Fla. Newby is a member of the law firm of Sims, Welch & Goldman. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago.

U. S. INVESTIGATES WOMAN'S ALLEGED HIGH FINANCING

Charges that Mrs. Janet Moray Smiley, called the "brain woman," engaged in forms of money getting, ranging from questionable mining enterprises involving such sums as $400,000 to borrowings of a dime, were developed yesterday when she appeared before United States Commissioner Mason.

Mrs. Smiley was confronted by her one time landlady, Mrs. Mabel Wilcox, who said Mrs. Smiley advised her to give up her husband, Sylvester M. Wilcox, following which, according to Mrs. Wilcox, she was told by Mrs. Smiley: "Certainly I went with Mr. Wilcox to Havana and London. I am a woman of wealth and I need a manager."

Mrs. Smiley is said to have posed as the owner of mines and plantations. Her connection with planting is said to have been restricted to the sale of participation certificates in a plantation owned by Andrew Carlson of 6020 Sheridan road.

Tom McCarthy of 'Devil Dogs' Gets Great Reception

Thomas McCarthy had a peach of a home coming last night. One of Tom's arms hung rather limp because of a piece of shrapnel that hit him above the elbow at Chateau Thierry, but that was all right, for if it hadn't been for the shrapnel Tom would be right now in France.

Tom is the son of Daniel McCarthy, 5516 South Honore street, and Mr. McCarthy was pretty proud of the boy who had been in the front line.

EVANSTON DENIES FLEAS ANNOY 'EM!

Fleas and rumors of fleas were reported in Evanston last night. The wings of rumor carried the yarn to the extent that youth and beauty, matron and maid, yellow pup, or cat, were feeling from fleas and scratching with nimble fingers and indignation.

Dr. C. T. Roome, health commissioner, denied emphatically that he had heard a complaint about fleas of any kind. "Not in Evanston," he said. "There may be some up around Chicago."

Alien Enemy Asks for Police O. K.; Gets Lockup

Wolfgang Achenbrener of Joliet forgot to obtain permission, as an alien enemy, when he came to Chicago. So he entered the central station last night and asked the sergeant on O. K. his card. The sergeant wrote a few words and directed Achenbrener to the lockup keeper. The few words directed that Achenbrener be held for the federal authorities.

SHRAPNEL MYSTERY IN LOSS OF WRIST WATCH AT HOYT WEDDING

Want Ad Hints Gem
Stolen at Winnetka Ceremony.

The diamond studded wrist watch that disappeared from the Winnetka residence of Mrs. Phelps B. Hoyt at the wedding of Miss Betty Hoyt and Lieut. Philip Swift last Saturday lost by the owner or was it stolen? If stolen, who was the thief? If lost, who was the finder?

These questions remained an enigma yesterday with the discovery of the fact that the watch was missed after the wedding. An advertisement in the personal columns of the newspapers would indicate that the bit of jewelry was stolen.

THE PERSON WHO TOOK THE DIAMOND wrist watch upon the occasion of a recent wedding is known. If this person will return the watch at once to Spaulding & Co., Jewelers, at Michigan-st. and Van Buren-st., no questions will be asked, and considerable trouble will be thus avoided.

250,000 NAMES NEEDED TODAY ON PERSHING ROLL

One more day is left in the Pershing patriot roll campaign. If Chicago is to reach its goal of 1,000,000 names to go to France 250,000 individuals must come to the front today and buy a war savings stamp.

Officially the drive closes at sunset tonight. Lloyd D. Waddell, chairman of the campaign in Cook county, decided to extend the time in the shops and factories. Manufacturers have requested the extension of time because many of their employees who want to get on the roll were unable before their next pay day to make the investment of $4.15 necessary before the name is included in the list. Mr. Waddell said he believed the list of signers ultimately would go far beyond the 1,000,000 names aimed at.

New Jersey Labor Flails Burleson as Drag on U. S.

Perth Amboy, N. J., Aug. 21.—[Special.]—The New Jersey State Federation of Labor today adopted a resolution attacking Postmaster General Burleson, stating that "as the postmaster general is the only man in a position of authority who is slowing up the nation's war efficiency, we trust that President Wilson will consider whether the interests of the nation are being served by the retention of Mr. Burleson."

BEG YOUR PARDON!

The Tribune of Aug. 18, in a dispatch from Lake Geneva, told that Company A won the competitive drill at the close of the first week's work at Camp Steever.

Capt. Beale's official figures show that Company C, mostly made up of Chicago business men, won, with 139 points, against 135 points for Company A.

The issue of Aug. 18, in listing the names who served in the trial of the W. W. gave one as Rush Campbell, 308 South Hamlin avenue. This is the residence of John F. Dillender, who objects.

The juror meant was Rufus Campbell, whose address is 355 South Hamlin avenue.

The error was in the list of names and addresses furnished to THE TRIBUNE by the City News Bureau.

PHONE HEAD PROPOSES NEW CHARGE SCALE

Abolition of all flat rate telephone service for the duration of the war and the substitution of universal measured service was urged yesterday by B. E. Sunny, president of the Chicago Telephone company.

Mr. Sunny appeared before a subcommittee of the city council on oil, gas and electric light committee, which has the matter of telephone rates in hand.

Under the measured service plan, Mr. Sunny said, there would be about $1,000,000 calls per year eliminated. He declared the war had made serious inroads on the company's employees, and there are 400 less operators than traffic required to handle.

It was shown by Mr. Sunny's figures that with the elimination of the flat service plan the company would have an increased revenue and would be able to meet increased salaries war conditions caused.

"We figure on about 221,000,000 calls a year from the flat rate phones," said Mr. Sunny. "Elimination of 81,000,000 calls per year being equivalent to the services of 400 operators, which would go a long way toward restoring the service conditions to normal."

The subcommittee directed the department of finance and public service to make an investigation of Mr. Sunny's plan. A report was ordered by Sept. 1.

Tax Imperils Movies; Patrons Rush to Aid

Movie theaters in South Oak Park must quit business if the suburb insists on collecting $2 a day a theater for censorship, movie patrons said last night in conference with the town trustees.

The meeting was on the proposal to amend a censorship ordinance. On Saturday managers of two movies in South Oak Park were arrested for displaying uncensored pictures. They said they could not afford to pay the fee. Whereupon the patrons, in fear of losing their entertainment, hastened to appeal to the trustees.

President Hill refused to cast the deciding vote when there was a tie, saying he would reserve decision.

Hunt Author of Fake Advertising Scheme

Police of the north side are looking for a sleek person representing himself variously as the steward of the Edgewater Golf club, the Saddle and Edge club, and prominent hotel. He has been collecting money from tradesmen for advertisements to be inserted in bills of fare.

THEATERS BOOST TICKETS TO $3 ON SATURDAY NIGHTS

Your front row seats will cost $2.30 on Saturday nights in some loopy theaters hereafter. This is true now of the La Salle theater, where the $3 schedule, plus 20 cents war tax, already has gone into effect.

The management of the Grand Opera house announces that the $2 rate will obtain there for the first seven rows, in addition to the defection of the scalpers. Scalpers are to sell tickets at the new price and receive 10 per cent commission, it was said.

It also was reported that scalpers' names (the only one being known) would be on the list of names to be sold at the new price and receive 10 per cent commission, it was said.

SEEKS TO DIVORCE 'UNTUNEFUL' WIFE

If there is any one thing Dominick Van Bergen cannot endure that thing is a lack of harmony. Dominick, it may be remarked parenthetically, plays the piano in the Woodlawn theater.

The domestic variety of discord grates upon him most, so much so that he filed a bill in the Circuit court yesterday asking that Mrs. Mary Van Bergen, his wife, be restrained from following him to his place of employment and "nagging and annoying" him.

Dominick also filed a bill for an annulment of his marriage on Sept. 26, 1915, on the ground that it had occurred within a year of his divorce from a former wife, Mrs. Van Bergen immediately proceeded to complicate the situation by filing an answer and a cross bill charging infidelity. She also asks alimony. Miss Emma M. Meeks is named as co-defendant.

This morning Judge Hebel will attempt to unravel the domestic tangle by listening to bill for injunction, bill for annulment, answer, and cross bill. The Van Bergens live at 1541 East sixty-sixth place.
